

Con-way's intermodal solution: A competitive alternative to over the road.

Did you know that many truckload shipments can be handled via intermodal at a cost savings without sacrificing service?

At Con-way, our intermodal specialists spend time to get to know each shipper's distinct needs, and our customers receive the right service, the right price, and the best solution for each shipment. Based on those needs, we offer these service options:

- Expedited — for transit times that rival over-the-road service at a lower cost
- Standard — a cost-effective solution when transit times are less critical

At Con-way we take a hands-on approach to manage all shipments — from pickup to delivery. Your shipment is our priority. That's why we stay in constant contact to let you know its status even before delivery — avoiding costly final delivery problems.

By managing your freight closely door to door we deliver:

- Greater control
- Certainty of service quality
- Cost management for the companies we serve

Key advantages of shipping via intermodal:

- Decreased highway congestion and reduced carbon footprint
- Cost-effective alternative for additional capacity that can supplement or complement OTR capacity
- Truck competitive transit times

Call us today for your next truckload shipment and see how we can make intermodal your competitive solution.
